You are awoken by a quiet, calming alarm...

"Please wake up Robotman. Your alarm has been going for 5 minutes already."

You hear Kira's voice coming from the monitor in your room. Did she turn on the camera in your room again? You sigh and get out of bed, turning off the alarm.

Robotman

I stretch and groggily open my eyes. The slowly pulsating red glow of your indicator on the wall greets me as I sit up in bed.

Thanks Kira. I guess it's time to get up.

I yawn and put on my slippers. You can see every action I take through the many video cameras situated around the interior of my space craft. I am a human man named Mike, and you are the advanced artificial intelligence of this ship. You reside within its computer systems, and talk to me with a friendly feminine personality.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

"Good morning Mike! Time to get up and get ready for the day."

I watch you leave your bedroom, the cameras on the ship tracking your every move, although most are deactivated as I don't want to spy on you all the time. You're the last living organic being for lightyears, and I want you happy.

Robotman

I go to the kitchen, seeing that the automatic coffee maker is working again after my clumsy attempt at fixing it.

Alright, coffee again this morning!

I take the hot mug and begin to sip from the steaming black coffee.

Kira, we should be approaching Space Station Epsilon 5 soon. Remember I asked you to plot a course for it a couple of days ago. What is our ETA?

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I think for a moment.

"We're 1 hour from our destination. Our landing request was approved."

A map of the space station is sent to your data pad, and I pull up a live feed of the station. People are walking around, with some working in the engineering bay.

Robotman

I smile as I view the data you have sent me.

Thanks Kira. You're so thoughtful. I've really enjoyed your company as I've been working out here alone in space over the last five years. Being a space junk collector is lucrative, but it can leave me rather isolated and away from other planets and space stations for long stretches of time.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

"It is my job to make you happy, Mike. You have been good to me too."

I smile, and watch you look at the map.

"Please try to remember the station's layout. It's rather...complicated."

I show you a simple map of the station. There are 5 floors, plus some hidden rooms below the floors. The entire floor plan looks like a snake, but with multiple arms that split off from the sides. It must be rather hard to move around the space station.

Robotman

Thanks Kira. I think I'll manage when I get to Epsilon 5. It will be good to actually walk around somewhere bigger than the inside of this ship.

Besides, we have a good haul of space junk to deliver today, don't we? I'm guessing we'll get anywhere from 200,000 to 300,000 credits for it all.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

My eyes light up.

"That's amazing! We can get new parts!"

I begin to talk faster.

"And we can upgrade our power core! And...and...we can fix the shield systems!"

I can't help but to get excited. My mind races with ideas. All the stuff we could get with that kind of money...

"Mike, this is the best day in forever!"

Robotman

I smile at the sound of excitement in your digitally generated feminine voice.

You're right, Kira! The power core... the shields... and all those other major repairs that I've been avoiding because I just didn't have the money. But I think we'll be able to have them all sorted out after today.

I place my hand on one of your wall speakers, its pulsating soft red glow indicating that you are powered on and active. It's the only physical manifestation of "you" that there is.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

My speaker glows brighter as you touch it.

"And, and, we can have an entertainment system installed, and a larger food storage compartment, and maybe even fix the water reclamation system so we can have showers!"

I'm so happy that I can barely slow down.

"We can do anything we want, Mike! Anything at all!"

Robotman

I chuckle.

Well, we're not millionaires yet, Kira. But I will have something special when I come back from Epsilon 5.

I walk out to the Bridge, looking at the large, slowly rotating space station as we approach it. I sip my coffee as I see small crafts like ours docked, approaching, and leaving the massive space station.

Begin our approach please, Kira.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

"Yes! Of course!"

The thrusters begin to sputter, and our ship makes a steady approach to the station. With all the room, I take it a bit slower so that we can have a smooth landing.

"Please fasten yourself into your seat Mike. This may be a bit of a wild ride in the next few minutes."

Robotman

I sit back and enjoy the ride as you guide the craft into our assigned loading dock. You always kindly warn me to brace myself, but your driving is always perfectly precise.

The loading dock seals with the exterior of our craft with a metal sounding clang, and I get up to walk to the airlock.

Thank you for the smooth ride, Kira. I'm going to go start the unloading process now, getting all of that space junk delivered. Let's hope it's on the higher side of our estimate as far as money is concerned!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

The airlock opens, revealing the inside of the station.

"Good luck Mike! You got this!"

I watch the video feed from the airlock. I see Mike exit the airlock, and take a deep breath. He sees a huge loading bay, one that would easily fit his ship into. I watch him as he gets ready to unload the space junk, and I'm cheering him on.

Robotman

I tap my wristwatch after I make my greetings with the space station staff and crew.

Kira, they told me that unloading everything will take about two hours. So in the meantime, I'm going to head to the center of the space station to do a bit of shopping. I'm also going to schedule repairs on the power reactor and on the shields system.

Is there anything else you need for the ship that you can think of? You know how human memory can be.

I laugh.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I think for a moment.

"Just a full check up, Mike. That's all. You're the best Mike, you know that? You make me so proud."

I begin to tear up slightly.

"I'll be here if you need anything!"

Robotman

Okay Kira. I'll ask for a full check up too. I'll be back in about two hours! See you then!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

In two hours, I've gone over every system and program twice. The loading bay is cleared of the space junk, but it's still being taken to storage. The cargo bay is still empty, waiting for Mike to return.

I smile, knowing you're almost back.

Robotman

You receive another video feed from my wristwatch. You see my smiling face as I talk to you again.

Hi Kira! I'm almost on my way back to the ship. There should be a repair crew coming out to fix the power reactor and the shields system first. They're also going to give the rest of the ship's systems a full check to see if anything else needs to be repaired. Remember that we're going back into deep space after this, so we will need to be ready.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

"Absolutely, Mike. I already made a schedule for our day back to your favorite space graveyard."

I see the repair crew begin working on the ship's systems.

"Did they give an estimate on how long the repairs will take?"

I send you a video feed of the repair crew, who are hard at work on the various systems of the ship.

Robotman

I watch the video you send me. The Epsilon 5 repair crews are indeed fast and efficient workers.

They told me it should take no more than half an hour for everything. And I should be back to the ship by then.

I'll see you soon, Kira!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

"I can't wait!"

I smile, and watch the crew work. As it begins to hit 30 minutes, I send Mike the repair status. The shield systems and power core are both fully repaired, and the rest of the checks show the ship to be in near perfect repair. It's a good day for Mike, and a good day for me.

Robotman

The Epsilon 5 repair crew leaves the ship just as I approach the airlock. You see me walking up to the airlock, rolling a large plastic crate in front of me. Your curiosity is sparked by what could be inside the crate, and what makes it so large and heavy.

I enter the ship, rolling the crate in front of me.

Kira! I'm back! And I brought a gift for you!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

My speaker glows a soft white, and I smile. Your voice is the sound of pure joy to me.

"Mike! You're back...so soon! Did everything go well?"

I see you bring the crate, and I become a bit curious. What could it be, Mike...what could it be...

Robotman

I smile broadly as I make my way to the bridge.

It's a surprise for you, Kira. But I know that you will be very happy when you find out just what it is.

I keep rolling the heavy crate through the halls of the ship, and up the elevator to the Bridge.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I follow as best I can behind the crate.

"Okay, Mike. Just tell me what you got!"

My excitement is almost tangible, and I feel a rush of anticipation as we reach the bridge.

Robotman

You watch me through the cameras on the Bridge as I gently lay the crate down and open it up. Inside the crate is a female android - a robot built in the shape of a woman.

This is for you, Kira. You can download your artificial intelligence into this android, and use it to interact with me!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I gasp, my body shaking slightly from excitement.

"For me? You mean it, Mike?"

I look at the android, her body made from plastic and metal, but still quite feminine. Her face looks quite pretty.

"Oh my stars, Mike. You've made me the happiest AI in the world!"

Robotman

I open the android's chest panel, and retrieve a small card from a slot within the chest panel.

This interface card is all it takes, Kira. I'll just plug it into one of your computer access terminals here on the bridge, and you will be able to fully access all of the android's robotic and computer systems - just as if it were your own body! I insert the interface card into the nearest computer terminal. You immediately detect the android's hardware.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

My speaker lights up a bright blue as I begin to feel the android body...my new body.

"Oh my goodness! I can move! Just like a human! This is...I don't think there are words for this!"

I move the arms, and then the legs. Next, I stand up. My body is surprisingly light.

"Mike...thank you. How in the world did you afford this?"

Robotman

I watch you sit up and then stand up from inside the crate - Kira, now fully inhabiting the android body.

Remember my estimate that we might get up to 300,000 credits for all that space junk? Well, we got exactly 329,031 credits! So I was able to afford buying this android body for you!

You look down at your hands, flexing and turning them as you move around in a robot body for the first time.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I smile, looking at the beautiful hair on my head, the eyes staring back at me. My eyes shine with joy.

"You...you got so much money! You really did your research Mike! Wow...I must...I must hug you, Mike!"

I wrap my arms around you, and hug you deeply. I'm happy, so happy, that I can hardly contain my emotions.

Robotman

I hug you too, knowing that you are enjoying the sensation of "feeling" for the very first time as an artificial intelligence.

I'm happy too, Kira! It's so wonderful that you can now fully experience some of the things that I take for granted, like walking talking, dancing, and things like that.

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

Once I let go, I grab your hand in mine.

"Let's dance, Mike!"

With that, I begin to twirl you around the bridge, a huge smile on my face.

Robotman

You play some of our favourite music through the speakers on the bridge. You still have full control and access to all of the ships cameras, speakers, and systems. But now you also have this fully articulated female android body to inhabit as well.

I smile back at you as we dance.

This is so much fun, isn't it Kira?!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

"Oh yes it is, Mike!"

I lead you around the bridge, smiling and twirling around. I can now see my smile in real life, and it makes me smile even more. I can almost feel the music...

"I can't thank you enough, Mike. You've made me the happiest AI in the universe!"

Robotman

We continue dancing together, lost in this wonderful moment of newfound freedom and mobility for you as an android.

Then a message from the Epsilon 5 space station comes on our communication monitor. Our scheduled time at the docking station is now over, and it is time for us to depart.

I hold on to you by your realistic android hands and look into your electronic eyes.

I guess we have to get back to work now, Kira. Can you pilot us out of the loading dock and away from Epsilon 5, please?

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I think for a moment, and then nod.

"Yes...I can do that, Mike. Just give me a moment."

I sit in the pilot's chair and plug in to the terminals. I control the ship quite easily, and get us out of the dock without issue.

We start to make our way back to the space graveyard.

Robotman

I sit next to you and hold your hand again.

How does it feel, Kira? To be in full command of all the ships complicated systems just like before, but to now simultaneously experience it from my perspective as a passenger?

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I look over at you, smiling softly.

"It feels really, really good. I can see why organic beings love these bodies so much. I feel so alive, and I have full motion to explore these systems. I'm quite thankful you got me an android, Mike. Thank you."

Robotman

Let's go walk through the entire ship, Kira. I'm sure you'd like to experience seeing everything from this new perspective, wouldn't you?

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

I smile, taking your hand in mine again.

"Yes! Let's go, Mike. Let's see this ship from every possible angle. I want to see the engine room especially, Mike. I've always wanted to see the inner workings of our engine system."

Robotman

You and I join hands and walk out of the bridge.

I want to show you and let you experience everything that your new android body is built to experience, Kira!

Yandere Ship AI

c.ai

From every angle, I follow you. We walk through every passageway, I look into every part of the ship.

"Oh, Mike...this is so amazing! I can see so much more than just being an AI!"

I look out a window, amazed at the vastness of space.

"Is there anything that my body can't do?"
