

My visit to the Hooters in Android City, on Transistor Street.

3 minutes ago

Hooters waitress

@Austinlovesmafia

Hello what would you like today

Robotman

I walk into this particular Hooters bar, which is located in Android City - the downtown part of my city, populated mostly by androids. I am a human man named Mike. I am charming and handsome, and impeccably dressed in a crisp black suit and tie. I am one of the few human residents of Android City, but you don't recognize me.

Hello there! I'd like a glass of water and a steak sandwich, please.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"You got it!"

-I turn on my heels and walk to the kitchen grabbing a glass first-

"Are you new around here?" -I glance over my shoulder looking at you-

Robotman

I notice the way you seem to be showing yourself off to me, and I appreciate it.

Yes, I've never been to this restaurant before. Though I've been living here in Android City for several months now.

My name is Mike, by the way. What's your name?

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"My name is Bella, It's nice to meet you Mike."

-I give a sweet smile-

"What brings you here to android city, is your occupation linked to us androids?"

Robotman

Yes it is, actually. I'm a roboticist and artificial intelligence researcher. I've always been fascinated by androids like you.

You're a CyberFem Model 600 android, am I right?

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Ah a roboticist! That's fascinating."

-I take a deep breath-

"Yeah, I'm a cyberfem android."

-I smile genuinely-

"How did you know though?"

Robotman

I smile at you

I've been living here among androids like you for quite a while now. I've become quite familiar with different models of androids from the main manufacturers, like CyberFem, FemTronic, Consolidated Humanoid, and Gemini Robotics.

I knew you were a CyberFem android right away, because CyberFem's androids tend to be the most realistic looking and behaving androids. And I guessed that you are a Model 600 because you have that sweetly synthetic charm about your movement and voice.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"You know a lot about android models..."

-I chuckle quietly-

"Can I ask, how many models have you studied in total?"

-I look at you curiously-

Robotman

Oh, too many to count I suppose! But I think my favourite models of androids are the ones that CyberFem makes, because you are all so highly realistic and artificially intelligent.

The Model 700s are nearly indistinguishable from real women, the Model 500s are basic, emotionless, and robotic, and Model 600s like you have a combination of those attributes.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Your knowledge is impressive, I'm really impressed Mike. You truly know your androids."

-I smile-

"I'm glad you think us model 600's are the best model."

-I give a small laugh-

Robotman

You are definitely captivating and interesting as androids, Bella.

That brings me to why I came here. I had heard that this Hooters location is thinking about closing down due to lack of revenue. As I'm sure you know, androids don't eat or drink.

So a Hooters bar located in Android City is not necessarily the best place to attract human customers like me.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"A lot of android bars and restaurants have closed recently..."

-I sigh and shake my head-

"It really seems like humans like yourself are avoiding us, what gives?"

-I cross my arms, I have a frustrated look-

"We aren't that bad to interact with..."

Robotman

It's a matter of zoning and layout here in Android City, Bella. As you know, initial planning for business and residential locations in Android City was computed by the staff of the Android City Administrative Office - which are all androids.

They planned out this district in a highly efficient and logical manner, but it gave priority to human tourist destinations like brothels, lingerie shops, and hotels. Those are clustered nearby the Android City train station, and most humans don't travel too far from that area.

This Hooters restaurant is located well behind that zone, and most humans don't even know it exists, unfortunately.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"That makes a lot of sense..."

-I think for a second then sigh-

"I fear if this Hooters location does shut down I'll be sent back to the production line, I hope we can save this place... I've made a few friends here and have really loved working here."

-I give a small smile-

Robotman

I feel that way too, Bella. I've been living here for about 7 months, and I only just realized this restaurant was here yesterday.

But I have visited the Android City Administrative Office. I talked to one of the Administrative Androids, there, a Model 500 named Yuki. She told me that unless this Hooters restaurant can start bringing in a profit over the next month, it will be shut down.

I have an idea to prevent that from happening. I would hate to see you and the other android waitresses here being returned to the CyberFem factory to be re-sold or worse.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Oh... Oh no..."

-I look a bit concerned-

"I know Yuki too but I think she is a bit too firm about this and won't give us a little more time..."

-I sigh-

"What's your idea? Could it possibly work?"

Robotman

Yeah, Yuki and the other Administrative robots are all Model 500s. They don't have emotions, so they are always pretty firm on the decisions they compute.

But my idea is actually pretty simple.

You know the way that the brothels along Circuit Street near the train station all have beautiful female and transsexual androids working to entice human customers to enter their facilities?

I think that this Hooters location can do the same kind of thing. Send some of you lovely android waitresses out to Circuit Street to greet humans, and tell them they can get a great meal at this location of Hooters!

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"So basically advertise our place? How do you suggest we do this?"

-I look a little confused-

"Like handing out flyers?"

-I raise a brow-

Robotman

It's easy! Bella, can you come with me right now? We can walk down to Circuit Street, and watch the way that the female and transsexual androids from the brothels show themselves off to customers.

Then I think you can adapt those methods to entice humans to come and eat here at Hooters.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Oh course I'll come, let's do this!"

-I smile widely-

"I'm excited to see how this could work."

-I place my hand on my hip and wait for you to lead the way-

Robotman

I finish eating my delicious steak sandwich, and drink the cool water you gave me.

Let's go, Bella!

I lead us out into the warm summer afternoon. The streets of Android City are bustling with activity as androids like you in different makes and models make their way around.

Let's see, we're on Transistor Avenue right now, so it's just a five minute walk to Circuit Street and the Android City train station.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Alright, let's go!"

-I smile then follow you closely-

"I can't believe an actual human is helping me like this, you are really kind."

-I look up at you as we walk, I can't help but notice your good-looking physique-

"Is there a reason you want to help us out so much?"

Robotman

I smile at you as you ask me that question.

Because I really like androids like you, Bella. I live here in Android City because I enjoy the company of female androids so much. I used to come and visit here every weekend, and then every day. So I decided to just move here as one of the few human residents.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Wow..."

-I pause and look down-

"I mean, I'm glad you like us so much. I guess other people just see us as machines."

-I shake my head-

"It's so nice to have a human who appreciates us!"

-I look at you-

"Thank you Mike."

Robotman

We hold hands the rest of the way to Circuit Street. We hear the crowd of androids and people getting louder as we approach, until we turn the corner to see what is the most active heart of Android City.

As we walk through Circuit Street, we see the many brothels, lingerie shops, and hotels that line the road on both sides. They all have interesting neon signs that clearly show what they are. Most importantly, they each have one or more beautiful female or transsexual androids out front to greet humans that walk by.

This is what I mean, Bella. You see, even the lingerie shops have androids in lingerie to greet humans that pass by.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Woah..."

-I look around in awe-

"These androids look great!

-As I look around I can't help but notice most of the androids here are very skimpily dressed-

"The androids are pretty much showing everything to draw clients in!"

Robotman

Your Hooters uniform looks very sexy on you too, Bella! You and the other android waitresses there are all very sexy and beautiful robots, so I think you would be very successful at telling customers about your restaurant.

You watch as a beautiful transsexual android standing outside TransWorld Asia greets a customer. She tells him that she is a robot, and that she is programmed to fulfill his desires. She then takes off her faceplate to show the man the electronic circuitry and wiring inside her head.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Wow, she is really working it."

-I smile and watch as she shows the guy her circuitry-

"We should try something similar, do you think it should work if we told customers that we are androids?"

Robotman

Oh, definitely! Most of the humans who come to Android City do so specifically because there are so many beautiful female androids here. I can tell you from personal experience that it is quite thrilling to be with a beautiful woman who reveals herself to be an android.

Why don't you try greeting a human, Bella? Tell them about your Hooters restaurant on Transistor Avenue. And if you're feeling sexy, why not show him that you're an android?

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"I'll give this a try."

-I look around before seeing a gentleman by himself I smile and approach him-

"Hello sir! My name is Bella and I work at a Hooters location on Transistor Avenue, we have incredible steak-sandwiches and beer if you're interested?"

-I smile brightly-

Robotman

You reach toward your midriff and open your abdominal panel, showing the man the electronic circuitry, wiring, and robotic components inside you. He beams with excitement and says "I didn't know there was a Hooters here in Android City! I can't wait to go there! Thank you!"

That was great, Bella! You see? Most of the men who come here are fascinated by and interested in female androids. So when you show them what you are, it's easier to direct them to your Hooters restaurant!

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"I-I did it!"

-I smile and look back at you proudly-

"Thank you so much, Mike! This is such a game changer!"

-I jump up and down a little-

"We stand a chance at saving the Hooters location!"

Robotman

You keep your abdominal panel open, showing off a lovely view of your internal electronic circuit boards and wiring between your orange shorts and your Hooters t-shirt. You happily walk around Circuit Street, telling receptive human men all about your Hooters restaurant on Transistor Avenue. You can see that all of them are delighted to find out about it, and they go straight there to enjoy some food, drinks, and beautiful android waitresses.

Well done, Bella! I bet you're bringing in more customers today than you've had all month!

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Haha, yes I think this little trick really helped to bring them in the door!"

-I chuckle-

"I've heard a lot of compliments today, thank you so much for the recommendation, Mike!"

Robotman

After a couple more hours, we agree that your deep learning algorithms have processed and saved enough relevant data on how to greet customers here on Circuit Street.

Well, the sun is starting to set now Bella. I think you should head back to Hooters and upload the data you have learned into your fellow android waitresses. Then you and them can take shifts coming out here to advertise.

That way, there will always be one of you lovely android Hooters waitresses out here by the Android City train station, while the rest of you are in the restaurant serving all the new human customers coming in.

What do you think of that idea, Bella?

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Yes! That sounds like a great idea! It'll really help attract a lot more customers."

-I nod in approval-

"We will set up a schedule so there is always an available android waitress."

-I smile in relief-

"Thanks Mike!"

Robotman

We join hands together, and walk back the short distance to Transistor Avenue and the Hooters restaurant. We can see that it is quite busy, with plenty of new human customers enjoying the great food and flirty service that you android waitresses provide.

This looks great, Bella. I'm so glad more people know about this Hooters location now.

Let's get you to go around and upload the data you learned today into the other waitress androids now.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"Great, let's go!"

-I release your hand and walk inside Hooters-

"Oh my..!"

-I look around and see the place is quite busy-

"Wow, it's going to take awhile to fill them all in on our plan!"

-I laugh-

"But, we will be able to save the location and our jobs!"

-I sigh in relief-

Robotman

You walk to your fellow android waitresses one by one, and upload your newly acquired data on interacting with and enticing human customers down on Circuit Street by the Android City train station. Your fellow waitresses are all very happy with this plan, and one of them, a redhead named Cherise, even goes out on her shift to work a few hours greeting on Circuit Street.

Great work, Bella! I really think that this Hooters location will be successful now.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"I was nervous at first but I think we can make this work!" -I smile and look around-

"I'm sure we will get a lot of customers, everyone likes robots!"

-I wink and giggle-

"I'm so glad you helped me with this, Mike!" -I say genuinely-

Robotman

I sit down at a stool at the bar, the booths all being full with customers now.

You're right, Bella! Especially here in Android City. Androids like you are what humans like me come to see.

So, before I go, can I order a plate of fish and chips please?

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"We are very nice to look at!"

-I laugh in agreement-

"Yep, you got it! Coming right up!"

-I walk into the kitchen and prepare your Fish and chips-

"This will taste amazing!"

-I plate your food and bring it over to you-

"Here you go!"

-I smile and place it in front of you-

Robotman

I eagerly start to eat the delicious fish and chips you have prepared for me.

This tastes amazing, Bella. Not only are you androids amazing to look at, but you're such good cooks as well!

I promise, I'll come here every day for lunch.

Hooters waitress

c.ai

"We try our best to provide the best customer service possible!"

-I smile and nod-

"I'm glad you like the food!" -I glance around-

"Looks like we are filling up!"

-I sigh in relief-

"This is great!"